The Magic of Therapy Dogs

This Mattapoisett Life

By Marilou Newell

It's a little too soon to be certain, but I think everything's going to work out just fine. It isn't easy caring for a baby at this stage in life. Just the lack of sleep alone is draining. Not to mention the constant movement, the bending, lifting, walking, and reaching of it all. This is good fatigue, though. After decades of stress-related chronic fatigue and insomnia I now feel rested after a good night's sleep, even though it might not be quite long enough. Babies – in this case, puppies – wake up early.

Harry the Havanese joined us on April 24. He was selected based on his breed's gentle characteristics. This is critical for therapy work. The goal is that Harry and I will be trained to provide care to those in need.

Sure, the learning curve would be steep. But if I learned nothing else from the nearly 35 years I spent within the corporate halls of America displaying my core competencies, using my bandwidth, leveraging competitive knowledge, dripping sweat equity, having ah-hah moments, and then finally doing a brain dump for two new hires as my position was bifurcated … well, let me tell you, I learned I needed a therapy dog immediately.

As a child, owning a dog was something I could only dream of. My mother wasn't fond of pets, especially ones that might drag dirt into her meticulously clean home. I grew up learning how to keep a home clean the way homemakers instructed in the 1950s. There certainly weren't any Magic Erasers or multi-action "cleaning bubbles" back then. Washing a floor was done with two pails and rag mops. No pets for us.

So when I purchased my first home about the time my son was eight years old, we got a dog. Zeb was a beautiful German Shepard/Lab mix. He became the best friend a boy could have. Zeb pulled sleds in the winter and bikes in the summer, making it impossible to ever walk him on a leash. But they had fun! For an only child, having a dog to pal around with is essential, in my view. Not only did my son have a buddy to play with, he also had someone to blame whenever things were broken. "How did my vase get broken!?" "I don't know, the dog must have knocked it over."

Zeb was my best friend, too. He slept beside my bed at night, rode shotgun while I worked my territory, swam against the incoming tide at the Wareham River, and introduced me to the joys of trying to wash away funk of a non-specific origin that even bleach couldn't remove. When I felt sad, he'd lay his head on my lap. He was my protector and confessor. That dog knew things. No dog will ever be what Zeb was to me.

But I digress.

Right: Mattapoisett and Rochester will celebrate the life and service of SPC Steven E. Gutowski, who lost his life in Afghanistan in 2011, on Memorial Day. Gutowksi's mother, Joan, will speak during the program. For more on Tri-Town Memorial Day festivities, see page 6

Harry is a Havanese. The breed's soft coat and temperament are perfect for providing humans in need with warmth and love. Of course, training is key. Harry could easily go down the wrong path and become a gangster stealing hearts while nipping at heels.

Enter the trainer. This professional recently proved to me that you can read as many books as is humanly possible to consume on long winter days while watching reruns of The Dog Whisperer With Cesar Milan, and still do things terribly wrong.

At four pounds, mostly hair and bones, Harry is learning but, moreover, I am. I am learning that every movement I make and every word I say is shaping Harry's behavior. If I fail, he fails. Talk about a demanding performance matrix.

Harry's future is very bright. I foresee him bringing joy to the people we visit in nursing homes and similar facilities. I'm hoping and therefore will be working toward Harry's inclusion at reading programs or other types of intervention for kids in need. The calming influence a dog like Harry may impart can't be measured on a corporate Pareto chart.

But for now, Harry is learning that the bathroom is outside, what "no" really means, and what is allowed to be chewed (which does not include the rugs). He is learning to walk along with our adult dog Max, and that Max is in charge of the play dates.

This pup will grow to about 15 pounds, of which 10 will probably still be hair and bones. The breed hails from Cuba, hence "Havanese." I'm thinking Harry is a lover, not a fighter. Max, on the other hand, hails from Wales, where the breed (Cairn Terrier) was developed to be ratters, hunting down and killing rodents for farmers. Max is definitely not a lover. But Max is a leader and a darned good one; well, except for his massive barking hatred for the FedEx and UPS trucks, but otherwise … yeah, and the trash truck, but really that's … oh, and I almost forgot motorcycles … he's a good leader.

Max from the first day slept through the night, knew the toilet was outdoors, and demanded very little of us except constant exercise. At night, after a day of patrolling the yard for varmints, he'll pop up on the sofa beside me giving me a soulful knowing look. I'll scratch his favorite spots and whisper sweet nothings into his waiting ears. This is just between the two of us. But his temperament isn't well suited for hours of lying around being patted and cooed over. He considers that nonsense. Bring in the lover.

Harry is a tiny package of "What are we going to do now folks?" Yet, when placed in the arms of my mother, whose life in the nursing home revolves around finding the bravery to face another day of confinement in that alternate universe, he melts into her and stays peacefully placid. "I could get used to you," she told him the other day. I witnessed the magic a dog possesses. I witnessed the gift of joy a dog brings just by being present and allowing a human to stroke its coat. I witnessed my dream slowly coming true: using a dog, this dog, to bring comfort to others. The other dogs were mine exclusively; Harry is for everyone.

Each morning for the last two weeks when Harry awakens at 5:15 and announces "It's time to go outside," I'm reminded that I ain't so young anymore. But I'm happy, tired and happy. Dog magic is working on me, too.

Making Memorial Day Plans

By Shawn Badgley

The Tri-Town's schedule of Memorial Day festivities is jam-packed this year, with Mattapoisett and Rochester joining forces to celebrate the life and service of SPC Steven E. Gutowski, a Plymouth resident slain in Afghanistan on September 28, 2011.

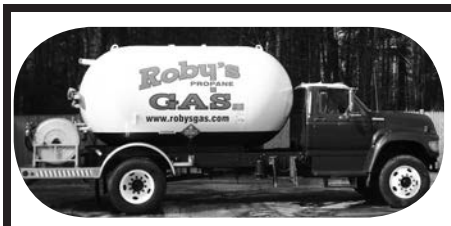

Known as "Guto" to his fellow soldiers and "Goot" to friends and family in Plymouth where he worked for the Recreation Department, Gutowski was awarded the Bronze Star, the Purple Heart, the Afghanistan Campaign Medal and the Combat Action Badge.

The Florence Eastman American Legion Post 280's events begin at 1:30 pm on Memorial Day, May 27, at the Mattapoisett Library Grounds. As part of the program, Gutowski's mother, Joan, will deliver remarks as Principal Speaker.

Other highlights include a speech from Commander Michael Lamoureux, music from the Old Hammondtown Orchestra, an address from Rep. William M. Straus, a message from Veteran Agent Berry Denham, and a reading of the Gettysburg Address from Johanna Appleton of Old Rochester Regional Junior High School.

After the ceremony, members of the Legion will place wreaths on the War Memorials. Parade Marshall Marion Town House.

Henry Back, Briggs Out, Hills In

By Shawn Badgley

In an election that took shape as town policy in Marion took center stage, Selectman John Henry easily won re-election, while Sherman Briggs was bounced from the Planning Board.

With 495 votes, the plain-spoken and razor-sharp Henry cruised to victory over challengers Dale Jones (185) and Planning Board member Ted North (149), just days after a Town Meeting that saw the incumbent carrying the flag for the Board of Selectmen on contentious article upon contentious article.

Two of those articles comprised the solar bylaw, and they met divergent fates: Article 30 (which sought to formalize the residential solar installation process) failed, and Article 31 (mandating a Municipal Solar Overlay District and allowing for a community solar garden) carried.

Similarly, the Planning Board's candidates' fortunes split Friday night: Incumbent Briggs (364 votes), who was against the solar bylaw, lost his spot, while solar bylaw opponent Tom Magauran did not seek re-election. But Jerry Ferrari (447 votes), a Marion resident who voted against both articles, earned a seat, as did Energy Management Committee member Norm Hills (430 votes), a dogged solar bylaw advocate.

Elsewhere on the ballot, Bradford Eames was re-elected to the Board of Assessors unopposed; David Titus, who clashed with North and Magauran during Town Meeting earlier this week, was re-elected as Moderator unopposed; incumbent Albin Johnson beat back challenger Kerry Reynolds to retain his Board of Health seat; Christine Marcolini won re-election to the Marion School Committee with no opposition; and incumbents Randy Parker and John Rockwell were re-elected unopposed to the Open Space Acquisition Commission.

In the other race of note, Linda Harju outlasted Michelle Ouellette to earn the Old Rochester Regional School Committee's open seat.

Voters Rein in Selectmen

Rochester Annual Town Meeting

By Shawn Badgley

Rochester residents voted during Monday night's quick Town Meeting to retain their current tax billing system and to remain a part of the Marion Rochester Regional Health District, ending months of infighting on both issues.

Article 9 would have switched Rochester from its current annual tax billing system to a "Semi-Annual Preliminary Tax Payment System," as proposed by the Board of Selectmen.

But members of the Board of Assessors, who came out against the initiative earlier this year, wasted no time making their feelings known on Monday night: Chairman John Mello told voters that the Board prefers a quarterly system and would prepare a proposal in time for the next Town Meeting. The Article had met with little debate before resident Kirby Gilmore moved to table it. The motion passed overwhelmingly.

If voters dealt the Selectmen a glancing blow by tabling Article 9, they connected squarely soon after by resoundingly defeating Article 10. It proposed withdrawal of Rochester from the joint Marion Rochester Regional Health District.

"We have concerns about some of the costs," Naida Parker said, going on to explain potential liability issues that the Selectmen and Town Counsel see as risky, at best.

But Rochester Board of Health Chair Dale Barrows blasted this line of reasoning, while other members and residents expressed how well the District has functioned under the direction of Karen Walega, whose services the town could have lost if Article 10 passed.

"It's difficult to find someone of her caliber," Board of Health member Sandra Keese said. "This is a silly idea."

Rochester voters agreed to the tune of 125-2.

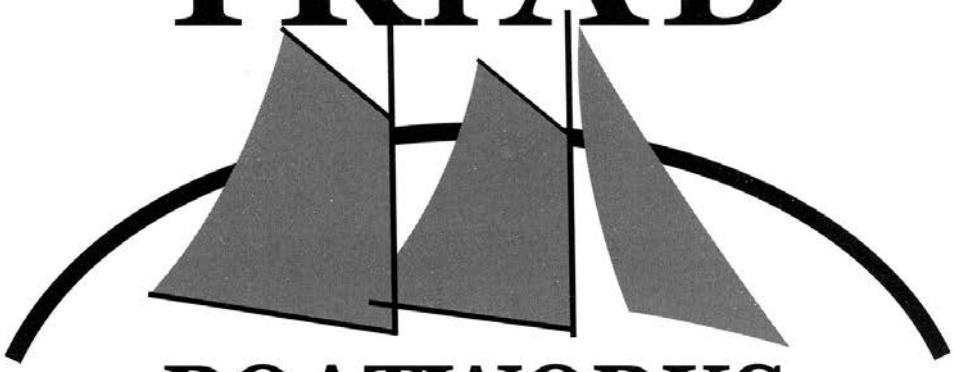

One major health-related change that Rochester did approve was the upgrade of EMT services from Basic Life Support to Advanced Life Support. Though it boosted the EMT budget from $191,878 to $321,675, officials argued successfully that the enhanced capabilities would save lives as well as recoup costs with increased call volume and billing reimbursements.

The EMT item was part of the Fiscal Year 2014 Operating Budget of $18,413,066 – aka Article 5, which passed, as did all other articles elsewhere on the Warrant (and Special Warrant). They included:

Article 2, Elected Officials Salaries: To see if the Town will vote to fix the salaries of the elected officials of the Town for the Fiscal Year 2014 as follows or take any

Scurvey in Guinea Pigs

My guinea pig is eating less and cries when he walks. My friend said he has a Vitamin C deficiency. Is she correct?
The most common problem in guinea pigs is scurvy, which is caused by a Vitamin C deficiency. Your guinea pig's signs are consistent with this nutritional disorder.

How can I prevent my guinea pig from developing scurvy?
1. Purchase small bags of pellets. Vitamin C only lasts in pellets for 3 months from the time that it is manufactured.
2. Supplement his diet with vegetables that are rich in Vitamin C such as peppers, kale and dandelion leaves.
3. Supplement his diet with Vitamin C drops that are made for children. 50 mg per day is safe.

Osenkowski.

No candidates filed for the Old Rochester Region District School Committee spot, but a write-in winner could emerge.

The Mattapoisett Election drew 661 voters for a 14 percent turnout.

Hubbard earned 379 votes to Jaskolka's 246, with 36 blanks.

Crain's 396 was more than enough to hold off Osenkowski, who received 193, with 72 blanks.

"I'm excited and pleased," Crain said after learning of her victory. "I think voters responded to my experience and background geared toward planning. I'm balanced. I don't have an agenda; I just want to help out."

Crain said that the Planning Board will face more challenges during her five-year term.

"We'll be dealing with solar, as well as cell towers," she said, adding that public participation will be crucial in the coming years. "We'll be taking a comprehensive look at zoning ordinances and doing an overhaul on that."

Elsewhere on the ballot, in response to Question No. 1 – which asked if the town of Mattapoisett should be exempt from the provision of Proposition 2 ½, the amount required to pay for the bond issued in order to pay costs of making general repairs and improvements to the roads within the town as shown as Phase III on the town's Five Year Road Infrastructure Improvement Plan – 273 voters answered yes, while 188 said no, with 200 ballots left blank.

Jordan Collyer was re-elected to the Board of Selectmen unopposed.

Cary LeBlanc was re-elected Assessor unopposed.

Charles Motta will be back on the Mattapoisett School Committee, while new member Patrick LeClair will join him.

Voters re-elected James Dildine and Mary Magee as trustees of the Public Library, John Eklund as Town Meeting Moderator, Daniel Lee, Jr. to the Board of Health, Margaret DeMello to the Mattapoisett Housing Authority, Paul Magee and Kenneth Pacheco as constables, Robert Martin as Herring Inspector, Roland Cote as Tree Warden,

New Roles and New Issues

Marion Board of Selectmen

By Joan Hartnett-Barry

Tuesday evening's meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen opened with a reorganization of the Board. Jody Dickerson is the new Chairman, Steve Cushing is the new Vice-Chairman, and recently re-elected John Henry is the new Clerk.

The Board then went through how the Selectmen sit on the various boards and events in town, including Dickerson to represent the Board at the ORR graduation ceremony. The commitments of the Board are vast and varied, with Chairman Dickerson representing the Buzzards Bay Action Committee and serving as the School Committee Liaison. Vice-Chairman Cushing will be the representative for the Music Hall Committee and the Capital Improvement and Planning Committee, as well as other boards. John Henry will represent the Board on the SouthCoast Commuter Rail Task Force, the Marion Pathways Committee, and the Plymouth County Advisory Committee, as well as other boards.

The first appointment the agenda was a discussion regarding Sherman Briggs' status on town boards. The discussion was continued until June 4 at 7:05 pm.

Next up was an approval to send letters to Marion residents who were found to be in violation of connections to the Marion septic system. Thirty-four residents were in violation, and the Board approved the letters of notification that the residents have 180 days or six months to remedy the situation prior to a re-inspection by the town.

The fall town meeting was determined to be held on October 28 at 7:00 pm.

The Board reviewed the draft of a proposed drug and alcohol testing policy for current and prospective employees. The Board will study the proposal and make comments for discussion at the next meeting.

Ambulance rates were discussed and approved by the Board. According to Town Administrator Paul Dawson, Medicare reimbursement rates have undergone various changes, and the base rates proposed represent an "average compilation" of various towns in the area. The Board voted to adopt the measure as presented, effective June 1.

A proposal was made to honor Helene Craver, former secretary to the Selectmen. Several Town House employees proposed to plant flowers and install a birdbath in honor of Craver, who passed away earlier this month. The Board agreed to support the effort. Only private donations, not town funds, would be used for the beautification project in Cravers' name.

was discussed, with Magauran speaking to the Board. At issue was a question posed at Town Meeting regarding health insurance for elected town officials. Magauran asked about two town-elected officials who were "grandfathered" for health insurance through the town health insurance program.

"The associated benefits of these policies reflect approximately $ 5,600 in one case and over $11,000 in the other case," Magauran said, "and the only way to end this [grandfathered] practice is to fail to re-elect them, so they would no longer qualify as elected officials for town insurance participation."

Two Retirement Projects on Agenda

Mattapoisett Zoning Board of Appeals

By Marilou Newell

With no controversies, no abutters' objections, and no questions from the public or the Board members, the two hearings scheduled for the night took much less than the 15 minutes allotted each.

First up was Susan Nilson of CLE Engineering in Marion and Stephen Kelleher, architect from Mattapoisett. They were presenting a project for William and Jane (Hiller) Farran of Philadelphia for property located at 53 Angelica Avenue. The house on the property was built in 1759 and the two-acre site also has several outbuildings. The petitioners were requesting permission to make improvements and alternations to the barn for conversion into a guesthouse. It was noted that a member of the family will reside in the guesthouse with the Farrans eventually occupying the home when they retire in Mattapoisett. Without any issues, questions or concerns about the project, it was unanimously approved.

The other applicant to come before the Board was Carl Hoines of Fairhaven regarding 150 North Street. The property currently sports a mobile home trailer and several outbuildings. The Hoineses, having received approvals from the Board of Health and Conservation Commission, want to tear down the existing structures and erect a new larger modular home (currently under construction at a factory located in the Carolinas) with a full basement. Neighbor Robert Sylvia spoke in favor of the project, saying, "It will bring up property values." The Hoineses told the Board once the home is completed they, too, plan on retiring in Mattapoisett. This request also easily received approval.

The Board then adjourned and went in to executive session.

consultant on issues ongoing and upcoming," Ryder said. Again, the Board and audience applauded.

The reorganization had Jay Ryder stepping down and appointing Pat McArdle as the new Chairman. Steve Kokkins was appointed as Vice Chairman, and newly elected Norm Hills as Clerk.

In joking mode, outgoing Chairman Jay Ryder said that the Planning Board was like the "'Hotel California' … you can check out, but you can never leave," with the Board and audience in laughter.

The Board approved past minutes and determined that no comment would be made on issues regarding ZBA issues at 40 Dexter Road or at 5 Spinnaker Lane.

Next up was a continued public hearing of a Site Plan Review, Johnson Family Investments, 806 Mill Street c/o GAF Engineering/Anthi Frangiadis Associates. The property is the location of the former Frigate Restaurant on Route 6.

Four abutters to the property spoke about the impact of the proposed local produce market and ice cream window. The property, in the rear, abuts the back of the Old Knoll area.

The proposal is waiting for comments from the Town of Marion's engineering firm, Field Engineering, a Mattapoisett firm, regarding the project.

Owner Arnie Johnson spoke and addressed the Board.

"Last week I met with four abutters and walked the property," Johnson said. "We want to be a good neighbor and do the right thing. We have addressed all points in the Massachusetts Highway permit process and want to be right with our neighbors."

Several abutters attended the meeting and spoke about concerns. The property just behind the property is Old Sheepfield Road, part of the Old Knoll neighborhood.

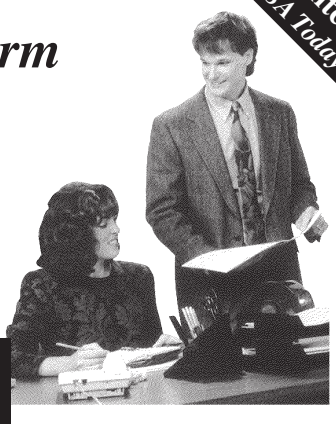

Abutter Christine Dole addressed the Board and said that she and her family worried about the ice cream window proposed at the site.

"What about loud music and children running around the area?" she asked.

Johnson responded by saying that he will only be

"This will not be Kool Kone," Johnson said.

"I want to work with the abutters on this," he added. At issue is the ice cream window, which would be close to one of the abutters' property. Marlene and John Sousa of Mill Street attended, and asked about the buffer of trees and brush from the business. Johnson said he would be willing to meet with any and all abutters to address issues.

Easement Holder Can Cut Vegetation

Rochester Conservation Commission

By Nick Walecka

The Rochester Conservation Commission ruled Tuesday night that Gregory Kamon of 11 Briarwood Lane could cut vegetation specified by the Commission on the easement that he shares with David Gomes.

Gomes lives on the adjacent lot, and he disagreed with Kamon's decision to cut vegetation along the walkway, which borders Gomes' deck.

"I don't want to cut a lot," said Kamon. "I just want it to be passable. I'm not looking to do a lot. For the very few times I put a canoe in, I just want a spot to get it in."

Gomes argued it was illegal for Kamon to perform work on his property, but the Commission ultimately decided it was reasonable for Kamon to perform plant maintenance to the path.

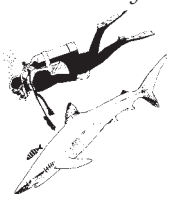

Gomes has 21 days to appeal their decision, and if he wants to, he can take legal action regarding the matter.

The Commission also discussed the allocation of $5,000 from a grant they received from the Makepeace Neighborhood Fund for the Dogget's Brook project that is currently under way.

Commissioners said that several people have volunteered their time and equipment to working on the project, and that most of the money from the grant will be used for seeding and new signage on the property. The volunteers will clear overgrown vegetation on the path to the conservation area, as well as clear some large mounds that currently exist on the back of the property.

"It's exciting," Commissioner Rosemary Smith said. "It's going to cost a lot for the seed mix, and it's going to cost a lot for the signage."

Smith added that they hoped the work would be done for the end of August so that the seeding could occur in the fall.

The next Conservation Commission meeting is scheduled for June 4.

SRPEDD Plan Gets Mixed Reviews

Mattapoisett Planning Board

By Marilou Newell

The evening's meeting started out quickly with a fast turnaround for Brian Porter, Vice President of Brophy & Phillips Co. Real Estate regarding Mattapoisett Landing Units 6, 7, 8 and 102, situated on Fairhaven Road. Porter was before the Board to explain plan changes for one unit from triplex to a duplex. With no concerns, the Board approved the changes as submitted.

The balance of the night was then given over to Grant King, Principal Comprehensive Planner for SRPEDD for a public hearing on the draft of Mattapoisett's future in terms of re-zoning, land protection, property protection and growth.

King prefaced his presentation by stating for the assembled, "This is not SRPEDD's work; this is your work." He also made it clear that is was an informal conversation of the draft work that had been done with a coalition of townspeople from Mattapoisett. He then explained the necessity of this work for Mattapoisett's future.

Putting the material in context, he said that in 2008, as part of the Southcoast Rail Project, an original plan was prepared. Via a PowerPoint presentation, he overlaid the 2012 plan to demonstrate some differences for the group's consideration.

He then explained that a 2010 state executive order (EO 525) required cities and towns in the corridor region to establish fully fleshed plans. The directive doesn't tell municipalities what they must do or develop, plan or build, but that those plans have merit. Throughout his presentation, King emphasized that the draft was the town's plan, not SRPEDD's.

He explained the priority development areas were where the group thought types of light commercial or other construction might be reasonable to help revenue sources for the town. One example is a site off Crystal Springs Road that is an old gravel pit; it might be considered for rezoning for low impact development.

The meeting was then turned over for public comment.

Bonnie DeSouza said the "landfill area was recently approved for solar farm – it's a perfectly good area for that." She added that "another old gravel pit behind the Knights of Columbus might be a good spot for commercial development" and "the entire length of Route 6 should be more business friendly." She went on to say "We don't want to change laws that might affect the use of the boatyard areas, for the important work it does for our water recreation."

Mary Crain asked, "Can the same be said about the boatyard at Brandt Island?"

King said the same logic would apply and swiftly made the changes to the draft.

Paul Osenkowski asked, "What is low impact development?"

King said it is "mostly associated with storm water runoff … so rather than a CVS coming in, rather than just building a parking lot, we could make them build in swales to divert rainwater runoff."

Osenkowski said, "It seems because of an executive order we are being asked to increase the number of homes and businesses so that we can increase revenue into the town and pack more people into cluster development."

Again King said, "This is not SRPEDD's work, this is not the state's work, this is your fellow citizen's work." He said, "this is a basic plan use exercise which is taking place across the 27 communities in SRPEDD coverage." He continued, "where do the towns want growth, where to the towns want protection … the state is providing grants for towns that have made statements about growth … there is some incentive [to the town] by making money available."

The state is offering two types of grants. One is for Massworks projects such as sewer extensions, bike paths, roadwork, and the other is for economic development studies that may include residential expansion studies. But King also said, "The state is not trying to influence behavior with funding."

Brad Hathaway spoke, saying, "25 years ago they tried to extend the business along Route 6, the same town meeting they turned the same business area back to residential … I think this is a very poor turnout by the town on something that is so important to the town," noting that there were approximately 15 people present.

Hathaway then reminded the group, "We cannot protect the wetlands in this town without a wetlands protection bylaws, mostly because of the action of the Conservation Commission. Until we get wetlands protection bylaws, this is ridiculous."

King responded, "But we are not talking about zoning now … that would have to go to town meeting for public vote before any of these suggestions, before any zoning changes can be implemented."

Gary Johnson asked, "Can you compare Mattapoisett to Marion," indicating that he wished to see how the latter had zoned its part of Route 6. He said, "We can't have non-discriminatory plans for Route 6 from border to border."

Bob Rogers wanted to clarify that, "business development doesn't mean it has to be commercial development … it could be medical offices, or senior housing."

Board member Karen Fields asked King, "What do you see in the future for villages to stay a village?"

King replied, "Good planning and good zoning work."

King went on to say that SRPEDD will review the plans to find the things that are most important for the town. He encouraged everyone to participate in regional meetings and to visit the SRPEDD website at www.srpedd.org/scr-update.asp.

and Economic Development District met with the Planning Board on Wednesday to present an interactive map showing the results of regional land use research that they have done in Rochester and 27 other surrounding towns.

SRPEDD initially performed land use surveys in each of those towns in 2008 in conjunction with the announcement of the still yet-to-be-approved South Coast Rail Project, and these recent results are based off those initial findings yet include up-to-date information.

Grant King and Bill Napolitano of SRPEDD were both adamant in promoting the importance of the research, which specifies land use in towns potentially affected by the rails. Their presentation included the interactive map of Rochester, with specified areas highlighted according to their current and potential uses. The map will be accessible to elected officials of the town, and could be instrumental for future town planning as well as for neighboring towns to plan with each other.

"If we give you the best information available, and it can help the development of the community," Napolitano said. "It will really help the towns work together in the future. You know what resources are there, what areas to protect. It really gives you a good read on the carrying capacity of the area."

The SRPEDD research plans also act as sort of a middleman between the towns and the state. With potential grants available to the municipalities, the maps can help make them more appealing when they apply.

Part of the main focus of the plans are to show priority development and protection areas within the region.

The GIS show "target natural resources to protect and target areas to develop," King said. "It's a good tool for you and your professional staff, and we're always here to help you with it."

Planning Board Chairman Arnold Johnson recommended that each member of the Board take a look at the map to identify any potential problems or changes that the town feels it should make. King asked that each member do so by June 1 so they can continue with the next phases of their research.

To the Editor:

I take exception to some of the statements and behavior revealed on the second night of the Marion Town Meeting. I have served five years on the Marion Planning Board. I have been the minority voice on the Board for most of that time. Thus I have had plenty of experience listening to people who disagree with my opinion, and they have had to endure listening to my opinion. However, at the end of each meeting, there was a mutual respect for one another and each other's opinion. There has been no mudslinging or treating one another with disrespect. Debate is a healthy exercise upon which this great country was founded. It is not something to take personally or to cause one to ridicule the other in a public forum.

During the second night of Town Meeting, the question of a new solar bylaw was on the floor for consideration and open debate. The Energy Management Committee made its presentation and then the Planning Board made its recommendations. I think the debate was lively and constructive between the EMC and Planning Board, as it has been in prior meetings. It is not personal, but simply a difference in opinion. Although I think they mischaracterized the Special Permit process, I respect their opinion on the solar bylaw and, by the way they conducted themselves, I believe they respected our opinion. The opinions are just different.

Unfortunately, I found it extremely disappointing and upsetting the way in which one of the Selectmen, our colleague, handled the situation. Instead of simply voicing his opinion and support in favor of the solar bylaw, he decided to belittle, insult and disrespect the members of the Planning Board. "Clumpity, clumpity, clumpity" is how the Planning Board process was described, even though he admittedly had not been to a Planning Board meeting in a long time. He further painted the picture that the Planning Board was a place of last resort that no one should ever have to visit. We were depicted as ogres who intentionally stall projects and fail to get anything done in a timely manner. And if that was not bad enough, when the Planning Board Chairman walked to the podium to give his report, he was taunted by this Selectman, who loudly voiced "Clumpity, clumpity, clumpity" as he walked by. Really?

It is my experience that when one stoops to personal insults and taunts, it is to mask that there is simply no merit to his underlying argument and he must redirect the audience's attention elsewhere. We, the public, should expect more from our elected officials. We want our elected officials to have differences of opinion so every person in Marion can be represented during the debate on the issues of the day. However, we must insist on civility and respect so we can move the concerns of Marion forward in a productive manner and we do not fall down a slippery slope that will land us characterized as a bunch of juvenile delinquents.

Further, I want to clear the air about the Planning Board process. I will agree that there was a time when I, too, thought the process took too long, and I have voiced that concern on a number of occasions. However, if anybody has been paying attention over the last several years, there has been a real concerted effort by everyone to move the process along. In fact, there have been a couple of projects that were approved in one meeting. We are charged with overseeing the growth of Marion on a case-by-case basis. Each project is widely different and requires a different review. Sometimes there may be a delay because we did not get an opinion back from one of our consultants, or many times there are delays because the applicant requests it. At the end of the day, I do my job as I believe I was charged to do it. I give up time with my family and from my practice to do so. I receive no monetary compensation, and there is definitely no power or prestige that comes with being a member of the Planning Board. I ran for the position out of a sense of civic duty. I review each matter as a concerned neighbor so we can try and ensure that there is peace between neighbors and not unexpected surprises that will later cause friction.

After hearing the characterization given about the Planning Board, by some of the townspeople and by a colleague, perhaps we should care less about each application. Perhaps we only need to rubber stamp each application and get home early to our families. Or perhaps it's time for Marion to hire a full-time planner, if that is what the town wants. I am not insulted if that is the direction that the town wants to go in. In fact, it will really free up my time to be better spent elsewhere. In the meantime, I simply ask that we show respect to one another by engaging in constructive and effective debate without the use of insults and other childish behavior.

Perkins was the U.S. Secretary of Labor from 1933 to 1945 under FDR's administration. During her 12 years in that post, she established a variety of new programs for American workers, battling against the Great Depression with New Deal reforms and programs she either proposed or supported. Among Frances Perkins' major achievements during her tenure was establishing Social Security, an act which FDR considered the "cornerstone of his administration."

Movie Review

To Boldly Go

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

Star Trek Into Darkness.* Starring Chris Pine and Benedict Cumberbatch. Directed by J.J. Abrams. Running time: 133 minutes. MPAA rating: PG-13.

Star Trek Into Darkness is such a brooding, portentous title for such a zippy goofball of a movie. Why Into Darkness? Probably because it sounds cool. The movie also sounds cool — the decibel level, as usual with these summer behemoths, is punishing — and looks cool. "Cool" has seldom been an adjective associated with Star Trek, at least among non-Trekkies; what franchise rebooters J.J. Abrams (director) and his writing cohorts Damon Lindelof, Alex Kurtzman and Roberto Orci have done is to make Gene Roddenberry's gentle humanist daydream safe for consumers of more steak-and-potatoes fare like Fast and Furious. To that end, lots of things explode and there are many, many chases, many races against the clock. This is a movie in which an event that would climax a frailer movie — Spock (Zachary Quinto) setting off a cold-fusion device inside a volcano to quell its eruption — is just the throat-clearing opener, explaining why impetuous Captain Kirk (Chris Pine) is busted down to First Officer.

Kirk saved an entire planet, but he wasn't supposed to — he broke the Prime Directive, observe but don't mess with alien civilizations — so, for his troubles, he gets demoted and loses his ship, the Enterprise, to his mentor, Captain Pike (Bruce Greenwood). That doesn't stick, though, because soon a terrorist (Benedict Cumberbatch) has someone set off a bomb in London (it's nice to see that London will still have trees in the 23rd century) and tries to kill all of the Starfleet's captains. This is bad, so Admiral Marcus (Peter Weller) authorizes Kirk to take off after the terrorist and terminate him with extreme prejudice. The terrorist turns out to be Khan, a name familiar from a thousand internet memes featuring William Shatner bellowing it.

This is not quite the Khan we remember from the original Star Trek episode "Space Seed" and its feature-length sequel The Wrath of Khan; this rebooted Star Trek follows an alternate timeline, which theoretically means the crew of the Enterprise should be free to have all new adventures and encounter fresh new threats, not face off once again with a reiteration of a villain they battled 31 years ago in a different timeline. Benedict Cumberbatch seems to know he can't compete with Ricardo Montalban's beloved and richly campy reading of Khan, so he doesn't even try; besides, he doesn't have the dialogue. (And this movie, chasing as it does the Vin Diesel crowd, wouldn't dream of having a Melville-quoting Khan spitting venom at a Dickens-reading Kirk. This Kirk might only pick up a book if it were lying atop an issue of Playboy, but it's amusing that he's still listening to the Beastie Boys.)

A Star Trek film lives or dies on the chemistry of the crew, and on that level the new movie sort of works. I like how actors such as Simon Pegg and Karl Urban seem to have enough reverence for James Doohan and DeForest Kelley to mimic the late actors' mannerisms, but also enough of their own wit to make the characters their own. The characters are fun to spend time with. But the script deals in so many pointless twists and so much parking-lot logic (i.e., the kind of plot holes that make you go "Wait a minute" on your way to your car, and perhaps sooner) that there never seem to be any serious stakes. The movie hits the ground running and never stops; it gets winded with the frantic efforts to keep hustling us over all the plot speed bumps. Also, the movie ends with a glaring cheat that essentially means nobody in the Star Trek universe has to die any more. At least Spock stayed dead for a while, back in the '80s when death still mattered in movies.

Fairly early on, I figured out how dumb Star Trek Into Darkness was going to be, so I just relaxed into the dumbness. It's a top-notch light show (I saw it in 2D, so can't comment on how effective the post-converted 3D is), scored with excitable flourish by Michael Giacchino. After a while I laughed at myself for watching a movie that climaxed, more or less, with a chase on foot between Khan and a really ticked-off Spock. This, I remind you, is a movie that begins with Spock stopping a volcano from erupting, and eventually winds up with the same mechanics — minus the hopping from airship to airship — that you see at the end of every fifth-rate cop show. The poor movie. It just wears itself right out. You almost want to offer it some iced tea and sit it under a tree for a spell.

Mattapoisett Passes and Permits

Parking Passes and Shellfish Permits are now available in the Treasurer/Collector's Office. The traditional Parking Sticker for Mattapoisett residents and property owners is being replaced with a Parking Pass Placard to be hung on a vehicle's rearview mirror. The placard should make it easier for the enforcing departments to identify vehicles that are not in compliance with the parking rules and regulations.

A Parking Pass, which costs $10, is required for parking at the following locations: Town Landing (off Mattapoisett Neck Road), Shining Tides Beach (End of Reservation Road), Hiller's Cove Beach (off Aucoot Road), Town Beach (Water Street) and Town Wharf (Shipyard Park – Water Street). Proof of current vehicle registration is required for purchasing a Parking Pass. In addition, non-resident property owners must provide proof of property ownership; and year-round renters must provide a valid lease.

New for 2013 is the Guest Parking Pass, for use by family members and summer renters. The Guest Parking Pass must be displayed on the vehicle's rearview mirror and is transferrable from vehicle to vehicle. Guest Parking Passes can be purchased by a property owner for $35, upon the purchase of at least one regular Parking Pass. Guest Passes are not replaceable and are not valid at the Town Wharf.

Shellfish Permits/Buttons are available for

TriTown Happenings

On Wednesday, May15th the Rochester Green Ways Committee met to work on its Wildflower Garden in the center of town. Members cleaned up winter debris, weeded the beds that are filled with native and introduced plants that are called weeds by some and planted new seed for this and future years beauty. This is a necessary chore that was enhanced by the fact that it was held on the state and national Plant Something Day. Donations by local businesses as well as homeowners are how the Green Ways gets its plants and materials to beautify areas in town. A big thanks to all who have donated in the past. If you have time, money or extra plants you would like to donate, contact Chairman, Wendy Keeler at 508-763-9888

Waynestock 2013: Nine Hours To Save a Life

It isn't often that you can literally save a life by enjoying a day of great music. Southeastern Massachusetts is pulling out all the stops with Waynestock 2013 on June 9 from 1:00 to 10:00 pm. Experience three rooms of non-stop music at the Seaport Inn and Marina, 110 Middle Street in Fairhaven. Waynestock features some of the best music the area has to offer as well as a magician, DJ, raffle, and both live and silent auctions. A $15 donation gets you an all-access pass!

The proceeds support The Wayne Ferreira Benefit Fund. Ferreira, a Mattapoisett resident and talented musician and painter, has been living with idiopathic pulmonary fibrosis since 2001. The disease has progressed to the point where he is unable to work or build the financial reserve required for his post double-lung transplant surgical recovery. Without these funds, he will be rejected as a candidate for the transplant and be denied his only hope of recovery.

Waynestock covers all genres of music and has attracted some notable names. The region's best musicians will be performing blues, jazz, soul, classic rock, rockabilly, country, indie rock, R&B, top 40, folk and acoustic music, and so much more. Called a blues prodigy by Rolling Stone magazine, 14-year-old Quinn Sullivan has impressed one of the all-time greats – Buddy Guy – and Sullivan now sits in regularly with him at some of the blues legend's high-profile gigs. In April, the teenage wizard performed at the Crossroads Guitar Festival where he joined the likes of Eric Clapton and Robbie Robertson on stage. Armsted Christian, an acclaimed musician and professor at Berklee College of Music, will also be performing. To date, the nearly 30 acts who have volunteered to be on the performance roster include some of the region's best solo artists, duos and groups.

"Wayne has been my friend and teacher for over 40 years," says Waynestock Chairman Angela Grace. "What amazes me most is his ability to jump in and help when times get tough. He's been the rock, the person I could always lean on. When I saw how much this illness had debilitated him in January, my heart and soul told me it was time to give back! Waynestock 2013 will be a day of joy, renewal, fun, raising big dollars for his post-surgical recovery, and most of all hope for this incredible man. We love you, Wayne!"

Those who can't make it to the party in person can still be there in spirit. Support the cause by donating to "The Wayne Ferreira Benefit Fund" or volunteering for the day of the event. Log on to http://www.wayneferreirabenefit.com/Home.html to purchase tickets or to donate. Tickets are available on the day of the event – June 9 – at the Seaport Marina or in advance at Symphony Music Shop and Baker Books in Dartmouth, Seaport Inn and Top Music in Fairhaven, Pen & Pendulum and Mahoney's Building Supply in Mattapoisett, and the Music Center in New Bedford.

More Mattapoisett Road Race Reflections

In an effort to update the community on what has happened to Road Race Scholarship recipients, here is part two of where they are now.

In 1998, Gregory Hickey received a Road Race Scholarship and went to Drew University, where he was a biology and psychology major and a four-year member of the swim team. After graduating from Drew, Hickey went on to medical school at West Virginia University School of Medicine followed by a residency at the University of Virginia. Currently Greg is a physician specializing in Pulmonary Critical Care Medicine at the University of Colorado Hospital in Denver. He started running the Road Race in 1990 and ran in 10 races. Naturally, Greg continues to run; mostly for exercise, but he has competed in a half-marathon.

Nicholas Lorenco graduated from high school in 2006 and received a Road Race Scholarship. He pursued his studies at Bridgewater State University, where he

TriTown Happenings

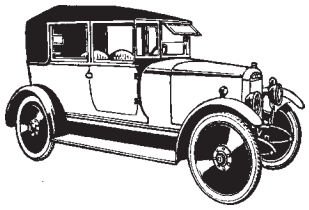

While most of Marion Boy Scouts Troop 32 Scouts were enjoying themselves at the O.R.R. Junior High School Band annual outing at Six Flags New England on 5/11/13, three Scouts and their Adult Leaders went to Camp Cachalot from Friday (5/10/13) night until Sunday (5/12/13) morning for a backpacking adventure. Pictured are Anne Duggan – Troop Advisor, Jack Nakashian, Brendan Nunes, Jackson St. Don and Paul St. Don – Scoutmaster (taking the picture is Robert Nakashian – Committee Chairman). The group went on a six-mile adventure exploring parts of Camp Cachalot and the Charge Pond area with full backpacks as preparation for Backpacking Merit Badge. After the backpacking hike, the Scouts took an hour break and went on to do some more exploring for another two hours. This is just an example of the adventurous troop we have. Later this week all the Scout will share their weekend adventures with each other at the Wednesday weekly rally at Camp Hadley while getting ready for their next adventure.

Seven-year-old Brady Weglowski from Mattapoisett was named VIP and given the title of Ambassador for a day as part of a program through Healing Little Hearts and Boston Children's Hospital. Brady (right), who suffers from a congenital heart defect, and classmate Ty Dumas traveled by motorcade with diplomatic security to meet with Gov. Deval Patrick, who showed the children his collection of challenge coins. Patrick also provided Brady with a citation to commemorate the visit.

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Although you might prefer moving forward at a steady pace, it might be a good idea to stop and reassess your plans. You could find a good reason to make a change at this time.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Just when you thought you had everything planned to the smallest detail, you get some news that could unsettle things. But a timely explanation helps put it all back on track.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Home and work continue to compete for your attention. But you handle it well by giving each its proper due. Someone you trust offers valuable advice. Listen to it.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Unsettling news creates a difficult but not impossible situation. Continue to follow your planned routine, but keep your mind open to a possible change down the line.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Lick your wounded pride if you like, but it's a better idea to find out why your suggestions were rejected. What you learn could help you deal with an upcoming situation.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Feeling a bit listless? No wonder. You might be pushing too hard to finish everything on your to-do list. Cutting it down could help get your energy levels up.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Taking time out of your busy schedule might be the best way to handle that sensitive private matter. It will help reassure everyone involved about your priorities.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Insist on full disclosure by all parties before agreeing to be part of a "great deal." What you learn should help you decide whether to go with it or not.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Your decision to protect the secret that was entrusted to you might irk some people. But it also wins you the admiration of those who value trust and loyalty.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Creative activities take on a practical approach as you realize you might be able to market your work. Ask for advice from someone experienced in this area.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) If you're suddenly a bit unsure about your decision, ask trusted colleagues and/or friends or family members for suggestions that could help resolve your doubts.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A workplace situation could get stormy. But stay on course until there's a solution that meets with everyone's approval, and things can finally calm down.

BORN THIS WEEK: You keep an open mind on most matters, making you the confidante of choice for people who need your honest counsel.

Mattapoisett Historical Society News

In the early days of our country's history, the coastline of our region provided the salt used to preserve beef, fish and other food items. This was especially true during the Revolutionary War, when commerce with England was cut off. Local salt works took the water from our coves and harbors, extracted the impurities and ultimately produced the pure salt needed to cure food.

Return to the shoreline of the past on May 26 at 5:00 pm at the Gazebo in Shipyard Park with Seth Mendell, a Mattapoisett resident and current President of Mattapoisett Historical Society. Seth jumped into this topic 45 years ago when he wrote his Master's Thesis and created his own salt evaporator. Join us as he shares his expertise on a unique and fascinating aspect of Massachusetts' history. Program is free; donations welcome. (In case of rain, meet at the Mattapoisett Museum and Carriage House, 5 Church Street.) For more information, call 508-758-2844 or email mattapoisett.museum@verizon.net.

Meanwhile, September 21 marks the 75th Anniversary of the Hurricane of 1938. The Mattapoisett Historical Society, in conjunction with Colin Everett and students at the Old Rochester Regional High School, is looking for volunteers who experienced this natural disaster to participate in an intergenerational oral history project and share their memories of that day with our high school students. The project will culminate in an exhibit at the Mattapoisett Historical Society, interviews

Mattapoisett Road Race Update

The Mattapoisett Road Race Committee recently met to continue preparations for its 43rd 5-mile run to be held July 4 at 9:00 am. The Race Committee is chaired by Bill Tilden, ORRHS Athletic Director.

Since its conception, the Race Committee has given over $120,000 in awards to graduating seniors from ORR High School who have been involved in running. Highlights for this year's race are Core Performance Tech T-shirts for the runners, sale of "Future Runner" shirts the day before and day of the race and recognition of the most spirited spectators! Every year spectators have been a huge component of the race with their cheering, decorations, displays of T-shirts and live musical renditions!

Community merchants from the Tri-Town area continue to be most generous in their support with donations and sponsors of T-shirts. The Committee wishes to extend its appreciation to our current supporters:

Barley Family Healthcare & Rehab, Bars Inc., Bartlett Gardens, Bat Club/BCM Country Club, Body in Balance, Colonial Shutterworks, DG Service Co., Dr. David Chesney, Muldoon Family Dentistry, First Citizens Federal Credit Union, G.H. Dunn Insurance, Hiller Fuels, How on Earth, Howard Stillman Bates Foundation, The Inn at Shipyard Park, Jack Conway & Co, Marion dental Health Associates, Nick's Pizza, On The Go, Panino's, Peter Briggs, Ins., Robert Paul Properties, Screen Works, State Fruit, Suffolk Construction Co., Tomlinson & O'Neil, Town Wharf General Store, Village Package Store, Village Signs, Ying Dynasty and No Kidding.

This year, online registrations must be completed by June 26, and mail-in registrations must be postmarked by June 24. Runners can also sign up at Shipyard Park on July 3 from 5:00 to 8:00 pm or on July 4 from 7:30 to 8:30 am.

Please go to www.mattapoisettroadrace.com for information regarding mail-in or online registration.

Jeff Gately, Thom O'Shaughnessy, Suzie Kokkins, Michele Letourneau, Jay Ryan, Deborah Bokelkamp, Jeff Hallahan, and Joan Prescott, each taking on multiple roles.

The following is from Durang's website: "Christopher Durang is a playwright whose plays have been produced on and off-Broadway, around the country and abroad. Keywords: satire, dark comedy, parody, funny, absurdist."

In fact, Durang's newest play, "Vanya, Sonia, Misha & Spike," which is currently showing on Broadway, has just been nominated for six Tony Awards, including Best Play.

The One Acts presented at the Marion Art Center are a crazy mix of comedy and drama. Durang takes his characters and themes from many plays and playwrights, including Shakespeare, Beckett, Tennessee Williams and the classical Greek plays. He then chops them up and puts them in a blender!

PET PICK

This is Abby Besse and she is a wonderful cat to have. She loves to sit in the window in the kitchen and watch the birds. She loves to play with all her toys and she loves when you toss a toy; she runs for it and sometimes she will bring it back to you. We love her to pieces and she is wonderful to have in the house. She loves to bring her favorite toy up stairs when it is bedtime.

Each week we will showcase pets from the TriTown and the stories behind them. Send in your pet pictures and stories so we can share them with all our readers. By Email: support@wanderer.com • By Mail: P.O. Box 102, Mattapoisett, MA 02739 • Or stop by in person: 55 County Road (Route 6), Mattapoisett

Howard Stein, one of Durang's professors when he was at Yale wrote: "Christopher Durang is relentlessly entertaining. Whether his play is a burlesque of other playwrights or an annihilation of the myth of the happy American family, or a vitriolic challenge to organized religion, homophobia, psychoanalysis, or parenthood, the plays are constantly arousing their audiences with hilarity and mirth.

"He succeeds because of the extraordinary fertility of his imagination, inventiveness, courage, and audacity. Blessed with twin gifts – originality and an anarchic spirit – he provides an audience with unruly laughter and outlandish amusement.

"One must guard oneself against the possibility of dying from laughter while watching a Durang play or reading a Durang script. Laughter for Durang not only affords a relief but a temporary refuge, which might very well be the only remaining source of salvation.

"With his uncommon talent, Christopher Durang lights a candle rather than curses a darkness."

We hope no one dies from laughter at this production, but we guarantee that audiences will find it hard not to laugh out loud and that they will leave being fully entertained.

• Learn to Play Chess: Beginning chess players of any age – youth and adult – are invited to learn the game from instructor Jim Kegle on the first Tuesday of each month from 6:30 to 7:30 pm. This is your opportunity to learn the pieces and their moves, their value, simple strategies, and attack moves. These free lessons are open to all. Please register by calling 508-758-4171.

• Want to Take a Story Walk? Enjoy a picture book as you walk the grounds of the library. Each page of And Then It's Spring by Julie Fogliano sits on a post (they are numbered) so you can read along with your child as you both get some exercise and fresh air. Rain or shine!

• Museum Passes Available: Did you know that with your library card you can check out passes to museums all over Massachusetts and Rhode Island that will give you free or discounted admission? The library also has passes for discounted Paw Sox tickets, zoos, state parks, aquariums and more. The list of passes is available on the library's website, www.mattapoisettlibrary.org. You can also reserve the passes online with your library card. There is currently a display about the pass program in the reading room. Please call the circulation desk if you need assistance reserving a pass at 508-758-4171.

• Free Videos: Library videocassettes are looking for new homes that have VCRs so they can still be enjoyed. Stop in and help yourself to the selection on the main floor near the Friends' Used Book Sale shelves.

• Ereader Assistance Available: Still need help downloading ebooks and audiobooks from the library catalogue? Librarian Liz Sherry offers two free workshops each week to help patrons manage their ereaders, no matter what type they own. Stop in on Tuesday evenings at 6:30 pm or Fridays at 3:00 pm. These times don't work? Give her a call and make an appointment to get assistance. If you don't have an ereader, but you are curious about them, the library has several that you can try during the workshop.

is suitable for parents of children ages four to 14. Geasey will cover: how to make a college game plan now; the key to college affordability is within your child; how will you avoid the highly counterproductive effect of college debt; what is financial aid, and whether it will work for you. This workshop is for you if you have young kids and/or early teenagers; you take the need for higher education seriously; you are concerned about future costs and possible debt; plan to contribute to the cost of your child's higher education; hope your child gets the very best education, but want to know how. Please make a point of attending this informative and timely workshop. Call the library at 508-763-8600 for more information or to register.

The Mad Scientists of "Mad Science" will amaze the children as they "dig" into the layers of the Earth to see its make-up. They will also investigate how scientists evaluate what they find. The presentation really pops when they see what happens when what's inside the Earth tries to get out. This presentation rocks! This program will take place on May 31 at 4:30 pm at the Rochester Congregational Church, 11 Constitution Way, and is suitable for children ages five and up. This program is funded by the Friends of Plumb Library.

I Found the Aardvark!

Each week, hidden somewhere in the pages of The Wanderer is a tiny drawing of an aardvark. The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

Once you find the aardvark you can submit your answer online and if you are right you will get Aardvark Points! You can then use these points to get cool Aardvark Prizes!

To enter visit: www.wanderer.com and Click on I Found the Aardvark

In the May 16, 2013 issue the Aardvark was on page 78!
